

Dr. Susan Entwisle of Cognizant Honored with the ‘Woman in Technology’ Award at the 2019 ISG Paragon Awards

Information Services Group (ISG) a global technology research and advisory firm, has honored Dr. Susan Entwisle, Assistant Vice President of Digital Business, with the Woman in Technology award at the 2019 ISG Paragon Awards™ ANZ. The award was presented at a gala dinner in Sydney, Australia, on March 27, 2019.

The Woman in Technology award recognizes those who have made a significant contribution to the creation or management of a successful project, or a program supporting women in technology.

“Each of our winners demonstrated exceptional service, ground-breaking vision and inspirational approaches to help address both business and technological issues,” said Lisa Borden, partner and head of ISG Australia and New Zealand (ANZ).

“I’m so pleased to receive the Woman in Technology award from ISG,” said Dr. Entwisle. “I’m a passionate advocate for diversity and inclusion in the technology industry, and it’s an honor to be recognized as such.” Dr. Entwisle is an Advisory Board Member on the Australian Human Resources Institute’s (AHRI) technology panel, an executive sponsor and active participant in Cognizant’s support for Code Like a Girl as well as Vic ICT for Women.
