

Cognizant Teams with Inchcape to Help Transform the Automotive Distribution Leader's Financial Operations

Partnership anticipated to yield cost savings, process optimization and allow Inchcape to better scale for growth

Cognizant has announced its new collaboration with UK-based automotive distribution and retail leader Inchcape, to help the company digitally transform its global finance and accounting infrastructure and services. As part of the collaboration, Cognizant will help drive new efficiencies and identify business insights that enable Inchcape to make faster and smarter business decisions.

Inchcape selected Cognizant to address the challenges of aligning and simplifying multiple financial systems, processes and services secured through its acquisitions as the company experiences significant growth. Leveraging Cognizant's expertise and advanced technologies, including machine learning, data analytics and robotic process automation, together with Inchcape's new investments in advanced finance technologies, the partnership will establish a Global Business System strategy and optimize Inchcape's process standardization as it seeks to continue its growth and alignment with global market conditions.

"Inchcape and the markets in which we operate are evolving, becoming digital- and data-led to support the omnichannel interactions we have with our customers," said Gijsbert de Zoeten, CFO, Inchcape. "In the finance function, we are investing in technology and creating standardized processes for some of our transactional activities, which will support our strategic enabler of building efficient scale operations and allow our people to give greater focus to business partnering. We are delighted to be partnering with Cognizant for delivery of some of these transactional services and look forward to working closely together as Inchcape continues to transform its business."

"Inchcape recognizes the forward-thinking approach of standardizing and simplifying its operations to unlock synergies across its financial systems," said Duncan Mears, Vice President of UK Digital Business Operations, Cognizant. "We are proud to collaborate with Inchcape and bring together technology and advanced business process services to produce a future-proof ecosystem that will help ensure Inchcape's continued growth and success."
