Forbes Names Cognizant Among “Best Employers for Diversity”

For the second time, Cognizant has been named to the Forbes list of Best Employers for Diversity based on survey responses from its employees.

Forbes and research firm Statista selected the Best Employers for diversity based on a survey responses from more than 50,000 employees of US companies with at least 1,000 people. Respondents were asked to anonymously rate their organizations on general diversity and specific topics such as age, gender, sexual orientation equality, ethnicity, disability.

“We are incredibly proud to be named to the Forbes list of Best Employers for Diversity,” said Shameka Young, Vice President and Global Head of Diversity and Inclusion, Cognizant. “For us, D&I is about creating conditions where every person can thrive, and we work relentlessly to ensure we lean into that commitment. Through our network of affinity groups, D&I programs and leadership accountability measures, we are ensuring our people feel connected to the organization and to one another. We want them to feel empowered to share their ideas and perspectives, and comfortable showing up as their true and authentic selves.”

View the complete Forbes list of Best Employers for Diversity here.

AccoladesCognizant CorporateDiversity, Inclusion

https://news.cognizant.com/2021-04-20-Forbes-Names-Cognizant-Among-Best-Employers-for-Diversity2