

Cognizant Named by Avasant as Leader for End-User Computing Services

October 6, 2023 - Cognizant has been recognized by Avasant, a leading management consulting firm, as a leader in its End-User Computing Services 2023 RadarView™ report. The assessment evaluated 32 end-user computing service providers based on their practice maturity, partner ecosystem, and investments and innovation.

Cognizant stood out for enabling secure access to resources, enhancing collaboration, and elevating employee experience and productivity through its WorkNext™ offerings.

WorkNext™, Cognizant's digital workplace solutions suite, provides cloud-ready, personalized, seamless experiences for employees anywhere, anytime, on any device. WorkNext™ enables remote collaboration, improves employee productivity, resolves employee issues quickly, and creates intelligent workspaces that promote creativity, innovation, and collaboration.

For example, Cognizant helped a European financial services organization implement a unified communication infrastructure for about 2,500 users, reducing 25% of the ticket count through automation, enhancing user experience.

As part of its WorkNext™ offerings, Cognizant has developed the WorkNext™ Workplace Metaverse solution to offer an immersive hybrid work experience through solutions such as virtual offices and extended reality applications, resulting in faster task completion, more effective learning, and higher productivity.

Learn more about WorkNext™ about here.

AccoladesNews

<https://news.cognizant.com/Cognizant-Named-as-Leader-in-Avasant-End-User-Computing-Services-Report2>