

Cognizant to Help mjunction Increase Market Share Through Enhanced Sales and Delivery Models

e-commerce Infrastructure to Support mjunction's Retail, Auction, and Automobile Portals

Cognizant (NASDAQ: CTSH), a leading provider of consulting, technology, and business process outsourcing services, today announced that it has been selected by mjunction services limited, one of India's largest e-commerce companies that also runs the world's largest e-marketplace for steel, to develop scalable e-commerce infrastructure for its online retail, auction, and automobile portals, thereby helping the company to increase its market share.

As part of the engagement, Cognizant will develop an online store that will transform the sale of branded items and support newer business models envisioned by mjunction, encompassing support services such as advertising, subscription, and classifieds. The automobile portal will serve as a one-stop online shop for consumers looking for comprehensive information about cars. Cognizant will also develop an online B2B auction site for mjunction, which can be used for large-scale auctions by the retail, manufacturing, and fixed asset management businesses.

"Our relationship with Cognizant will allow mjunction to harness Cognizant's rich experience in managing high-velocity, high-transaction-volume e-commerce applications for global customers," said Viresh Oberoi, Managing Director of mjunction services limited. "We are impressed with Cognizant's deep understanding of our business vision, expectations, and technical challenges, and Cognizant's ability to provide business consulting on the various business processes envisioned by mjunction."

"We are pleased to have been selected by mjunction to develop their e-commerce infrastructure," said R. Chandrasekaran, President and Managing Director, Global Delivery, Cognizant. "Leveraging Cognizant's Business Consulting practice and deep technology expertise that we have garnered working with path-breaking e-commerce companies, we are committed to be a transformational partner driving powerful thought leadership and aligning business operations and IT to help our clients define industry trends while enhancing their operations and efficiency."

"We look forward to working with mjunction to help them diversify their product offerings and associated services, generate revenues from new business models, and venture into new lines of product sales and online services," added Chandrasekaran. "This engagement is a testament to the success we are seeing from the investments we are making in the domestic market in India. Cognizant is committed to continued investments in emerging markets to further globalize our business and support our global customers around the world."
